

Dear FCC,I request that the FCC revise the TCPA rule to prevent "predictive dialing", or any other practice where a telemarketer dials a residence but fails to answer when the line is picked up by the resident. If this requires an action outside the TCPA rule, it should still be regulated and stopped. Home owners need a method to prevent this harrassment that does not require the homeowner to pay to be placed on a "no-call" list.